

---

REVA Barolo Cannubi DOCG

---

Winery: REVA

Category: Wine – Still – Red

Grape Variety: Nebbiolo, Lampia clone

Region: Monforte d'Alba / Piemonte/ Italy

Vineyard: Barolo, Cannubi MGA

Winery established: 1867, renovated in 2011 with new ownership

Feature: Organic

Awards: 2016: 91 Wine Enthusiast, 95 James Suckling, 91 Decanter, 95 Falstaff

---

Product Information

---

Soil: Tortonian and Helvetian, Sant'Agata marl

Exposure: East

Vinification: Manual harvest. Spontaneous fermentation with skin contact for 35 days in truncated conical oak vats. Aged for 24 months in oak barrels and six more months in the bottle.

Planting density: 4,500 vines per hectare

Tasting Note: Elegant and well-balanced, it starts with notes of rosehip and hidden spices, aromas of cherries and liquorice, then envelops the entire palate with fullness and persuasiveness that can be felt while drinking it, showing plentiful but well balanced acidity and a tannic body that is present but delicate.

Production: 2,000 bottles

---

Producer Information

---

In 2011, Miro Lekes, wine lover and collector, brought together some of the most talented and passionate up-and-coming winemakers in Langhe. They established a new winery in Monforte d'Alba, where the friends were empowered to bring together the best of art, science, and tradition in simple pursuit of the best wines. The energy of the team, their close work in the vineyard, and their careful attention in the winery have produced wines of great purity that preserve as well as reflect the characteristics of their terroir. Visiting the winery is an immersive educational experience in the Langorolo winemaking, and in the collaborative rural relationships and ethical biodiversity that make the wines of this famous region truly great.

They grow all four biotypes of Nebbiolo--Lampia, Michet, Rose and Picotener--along with Barbera, Dolcetto, and a fascinating old plot of Sauvignon Gris. 35 hectares in the hills of Barolo, 9 of woods, 3 of hazelnuts and cultivated fields, and 23 hectares of vineyards, all farmed organically: in Monforte d'Alba, Barolo, Novello, Serralunga d'Alba, Grinzane Cavour, and, most recently, in Roddino (Alta Langa). Their Barolo wines display both the traditional philosophy of blending from more than one site, and the deepening interest in the micro-terroirs of Barolo's crus, or MGAs, with labels from Cannubi, Ravera, and Lazzarito. Total production is about 60K bottles per year and total area of vineyards planted is 23 hectares (57 acres).